Bishop Richard O. Gerow Presents
Five Graduates With Diplomas.
Large Audience Witnessed Exercises Saturday Night at College Auditorium.

An event of unusual interest which took place Saturday night was the seventy-first annual closing exercises of St. Joseph Academy, of Bay St. Louis, under the direction of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

There were five graduates: Miss Alice Blaize, of Bay St. Louis; Miss Bessie Ratson, of Houston, Texas; Miss Mary Scafield, of Bay St. Louis; Miss Kitty O'Leary and Miss Caroline Logan, of New Orleans, residing in

There were a large number of friends of all sections who had come to participate to the success of members of Class '26 and among the number who had come from far and wide none were more distinguished than the Rt. Rev. Bishop Richard O. Gerow, of Natchez, who presented the diplomas.

Rev. Father Stritch's address to the graduates was noted for its depth and with humor interspersed. His precepts were numerous and well worthy of the occasion when five young women were embarking on the sea of life.

Bishop Gerow awarded the medals as follows: Gold medal for his first prize, first school, won by B. Verna Batson, and in second year high school, won by Victoria Gabriele. The gold medal for Christian doctrine, merited by Misses Kitty O'Leary, Caroline Logan, Mary Scafide, Alice Blazie, Evelyn Boh, and the babe, Judith Mae, Helen Kerosien, Eta Mae Allinbaum, was won by Miss Alice Blazie. The gold pin for music, merited by Misses Evelyn Sauter, Victoria Gabriele, Divie Dodge and Theresa Ward, was won by Miss Theresa Ward. The gold medal for English, merited by Misses Kitty O'Leary, Caroline Logan, Alice Blazie, Mary Scafide, Alberta Beyer, Victoria Gabrie, Lois Hobbs, Dixie Dodge, Hazel Kergosien, Verna Batson, Lucille De Armas, Lois De Armas, Kathleen Ren-

shaw, Marie Acardo and Jenny Bennedetto, was won by Miss Kitty O'Leary. The gold medal for attendance, merited by Misses Caroline
Logan, Alice Blaize, Lois Hobbs, Hazel Kergosien, Mary Bourgeois and Anna Dale Crawford, was won by Miss Hazel Kergosien. The gold pin

for art, merited by Misses Victoria Gabrie, Ina Le Blang, Yvonne Le Blanc, was won by Miss Yvonne Le Blanc. The gold St. Joseph Academy medal, merited by Misses Bessie Batson, Victoria Gabrie, Marie Accardo and Verna Batson, was won by Miss Marie Accardo. The silver pin for art, merited by Misses Bessie Batson,

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Weston and Miss Dorothy Weston, of Logtown, entertained at a treasure hunt Sunday night. The first clue was given at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weston, and the hunters made a wild dash for their cars. Af-

After covering a large part of Hancock county, the treasure was found at Mrs. Pollard's Nicholson Avenue Tea Room, by Miss Alma Parker. In her car was Horatio Givens, and Russell Lott. It was reported that there were several speed records broken along the highway by the speeding hunters.

After the hunters had arrived a very delightful course of salad and sandwiches were served.

Among those on the hunt were: Mr. and Mrs. Leo W. Seal, Mr. and Mrs. Clem Weston, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lott, Misses Mary Perkins, Hermie Perkins, Irene Weston, Lucille Weston.

all just display our share of public spirit and co-operation in an effort to have in reality the best city on the Coast. You may have the most efficient agents at the head of the various public departments the most efficient officers in your different organizations and clubs, but their ideas, plans and best efforts are of no avail if the public they try so diligently to serve fail to respond with a little co-operation when they wish to promote something of interest and general welfare for the city and county. Come on, folks, it's easy when we all try to the best of our ability to have the best city between New Orleans and Mobile.

Invest with the Peoples Building & Loan Association.—Adv.

Capt. C. B. Fisher is spending today in New Orleans, Saturday his regular weekly day for business in the big city.

Mrs. M. V. Gex and family are entertaining at their home guests, Mrs. Papino, a relative from New Orleans, who will remain as their guest for an indefinite period.

Miss Ethel Lee Eaton, of Sumrall, Miss., is visiting her cousin, Miss Elsie Smith, at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. A. P. Smith, on the north beach front, and will remain for a while.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Groff and sons, Howard, David Lee and Master Floyd Groff, of New Orleans, are domiciled for the summer at 316 Carroll avenue, having taken possession of the Davis place last week.

Have you had your first swim this season? If not, you need not fear the blistering effects of the sun. Get a tube of Unguentine. It is a soothing, healing and antiseptic ointment. Beach Drug Store.

Our ice cream parlor on our back porch is for your comfort and enjoyment. Come and stay as long as you like. Enjoy the cool sea breezes to the tune of victrola music. Beach Drug Store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dubuc and daughters have moved from their domicile, (the Webb home) to the Victor Cuevas place, across the street, in Carroll avenue, where they are attractively and charmingly domiciled and "at home" to their friends.

Mr. A. G. Osoinach, astute and polished editor of the Gulfport Herald, spent Tuesday evening in this city, visiting at the home of his brother, Mr. John Osoinach, at the family home in the south beach front.

"Play, 'Old Maids' Convention," given by Club Women of Flat Top community, tonight. Admission, 15 and 25 cents. Money to be used for the completion of a telephone line into Picanine. If you want a good laugh, go to Flat Top tonight.

Capt. and Mrs. C. B. Fisher, who recently leased their large home in Ballentine street for their summer season, moved this week into their smaller home on the corner of Front and Goodchildren streets, formerly known as the C. L. Waller place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Weston, of Logtown, and their guests, over last week-end Mr. Herbert Robinson, of Birmingham, Ala. Mr. Robinson is connected with the coal business in which he has very large holdings.

The Peoples Building & Loan Association, of Bay St. Louis, pays 7 percent on paid-up certificates.—Adv.

Miss Iolanthe Mauffray, a graduate last year of St. Joseph Academy, this city, returned home a few days since from the Mississippi State College, at Columbus, where she spent the last session in study, delighted with the classwork.

The Echo appreciates complimentary turns for the water for the night to be held this evening at the Thiel premises in Waveland, benefit Christ Episcopal Church, Bay St. Louis, and which promises to be one of the more prominent and outstanding benefit events of the season.

Out of respect to the memory of Honorary Commodore Ernest J. Leonard, of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, the regular Saturday night dance by the club will be called off for this one week. However, next Saturday the regular weekly dances of the season will be resumed.

Miss Ione Canty recently returned home from Pascagoula, where she attended school and visited at the home of her grandfather and grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Canty, prominent residents of the city of "mysterious music." Miss Ione has many local friends in her set who are glad to have her back home.

Mrs. E. J. Lacoste and Mrs. Kate Connor will be hostess next Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Weston for the card party benefit on that day, benefit Catholic Neighborhood Circle No. 1. The ladies are anticipating a most delightful afternoon and a splendid attendance is promised.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Penn and their daughters, Misses Lydia and Georgia, motored from New Orleans last week to Bay St. Louis and are domiciled at their summer home on the beach front for the season. They are among the already numerous acquisitions to the local social circle from New Orleans for the summer.

There will be another regular Saturday night dance at the K. C. Home this evening, and every Saturday night thereafter, for the benefit of the K. C. Home Association. Devotees of the dance and others who may wish to patronize the benefit will remember, in their pleasure, the K. C. Home Association.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis, former residents of Bay St. Louis, in Carroll avenue, but now residing in Memphis, Tenn., will learn with interest of a new arrival at their home recently, a little daughter, Beverly Jean, which interesting event dates since June 10th. Both mother and child are fine. Mrs. Edith K. Davis, the maternal grandmother, is visiting her son and his family for the summer.

Mrs. Thomas Holford, who is the charming hostess of the Clermont Harbor Inn, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Madison, prior to the formal opening of the Clermont Harbor Inn. Mrs. Holford is a social favorite as well as leader in social circles in New Orleans. Under her charming management, Clermont Harbor Inn will, no doubt be the center of much of the social gaieties on the Coast.

The Webb home, in Carroll avenue, late dwelling of Mayor R. W. Webb, was sold this week by Mrs. Webb to Mr. Holzer, well known business man of New Orleans, who, after making repairs and renovation, will occupy the place as a family summer home. The cash price paid was $11,500.00, the sale taking place today.

There are two reasons for ice cream being the most popular dessert for Sunday dinners. One is because it is so easily obtained and served; the other is because it is a most delicious dessert and is sure to please every member of the family and all the guests. If you are particular about serving the very best ice cream, then you want Brown's Velvet. We have the exclusive agency. Telephone 189. Beach Drug Store.

The Peoples Building & Loan Association, located in Masonic building, is out after new business. Paid-up stock certificates are the most attractive form of investment. We pay 7 percent, semi-annually.—Adv.

Peter Boudin has begun work on the removal of the Bay St. Louis High School building, in Second street, and in a few days it is expected to find the old rookery moved several hundred feet back. The building will be so placed and positioned as to make it accessible and safe for the opening of the fall session and to be used until the proposed brick building is completed and ready for occupancy. Mr. Boudin makes a specialty in this line, fully equipped and experienced.

Arthur A. Seaford, who is attending the convention of International Rotary at Denver, Colo., this week, representing the Bay St. Louis Club, will remain in that city for the World's Eucharistic Congress, to be held at the suburb of Mundelein. From there he will journey homeward.

Mr. J. B. Smith, contractor for the building of the Bay St. Louis bi-county bridge, this week purchased Forrest Villa, known better in former days as "Nellie's Villa," and with his family plan to take active possession of the premises. The approximate price paid was $16,000.00. Contractor Smith is expecting his first arrival of material for the bridge within the next week or two.

Miss Elizabeth Fisher, accomplished young daughter of Capt. and Mrs. C. B. Fisher, left Bay St. Louis yesterday morning for California, where she will spend the summer taking a special course of study at Leeland Stanford University, returning home in the early fall. Miss Fisher attended the University in California at a former season engaged in other study.

Miss Julia Blaize and Miss Leonie Gilbert left this week for Chicago, where they are attending the Eucharistic Congress, and will visit friends in that city before returning home. Miss Blaize is the accomplished young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. Blaize, and Miss Leonie the attractive young daughter of Mrs. O. J. Gilbert, and a pupil at St. Joseph's, this city.

Mrs. L. M. Power and daughter, Miss Effie Graham, and grandmother, Mrs. E. C. Abrahams, left yesterday for St. Louis, Mo., where they will visit friends for a while and later going on to Los Angeles, Cal., where they will visit Mrs. Power's brother and family. They plan to remain in California until the early fall. The Power home on the beach front has been leased to the DeAntonia family, of New Orleans, for the season.

No safer and better investment for idle money than the Peoples Building & Loan Association. We pay 7 percent semi-annually. We mail your check every six months promptly.—Adv.

In this issue of The Echo Edwards Bros., pioneer Ford dealers in this section, carry a big announcement, stating big reduction in Ford cars effective today. This is most interesting. It means a new car for many a family and individual. See Edwards Bros., or their representatives, at once.

"Here They Are," is the title of an interesting advertisement appearing in this issue of The Echo. The Coast Serve-Self Grocery and Meat Market, located in The Echo Bldg., further says, "We invite you to call here this evening, and every Saturday night thereafter, for the benefit of the K. C. Home Association. Devotees of the dance and others who may wish to patronize the benefit will remember, in their pleasure, the K. C. Home Association."

A RIDE THROUGH HANCOCK COUNTY.

Pleasure and Interest To Be Found in Lovely Roads Leading Out of Bay St. Louis—Riverside Service Station and Tea Room a New Innovation for Benefit of the Traveling Public.

On last Sunday the writer, accompanied by some friends who are visiting here for a short time from the Crescent City, motored over to Fenton. The writer had made the same trip often before, and had become accustomed to the beautiful scenery along the road. The invigorating air through the piney woods and the grandeur of the landscape at certain places, were brought more forcibly to our attention by the exclamations of surprise and joy expressed by our companions at frequent intervals. They freely admitted they never before enjoyed an evening's ride so pleasantly, and seemed surprised to find such beautiful spots of woodland so near Bay St. Louis. Indeed, they marveled at the beauty and loveliness of a ride through Hancock county.

Arriving at Fenton, we stopped at the Riverside Service Station and Tea Room, and we were agreeably surprised to find that the "Service Station" consisted of the nicest and most up-to-date Tea Rooms that can be found anywhere, having a filling and oil station in connection. The furniture and fixtures of the Tea Room are of the very latest, and the service was of the best obtainable anywhere. In connection with the Tea Room is a ladies' rest room, and the place is cool and inviting. Miss Lottie Cuevas conducts the place, assisted by her brother, Claud Cuevas, and they are always ready to accommodate patrons passing along the road, serving sandwiches and refreshments and supplying gasoline and oil at all hours. The tea room has been in operation only a short while and will prove of much benefit to the traveling public.

Returning to Bay St. Louis, the trip was even more pleasant, as the sun was slowly setting, casting long shadows through the tall pines. With a cool breeze blowing, the old Henry keeping time to the singing of the birds, the many turns in the road made us think, and wonder what was ahead. Anyway, we were content to ride on forever.

The writer wonders how many Bay St. Louis people take advantage of our beautiful drives and pleasant scenery, when acting as host to visiting friends. The drive is inviting; its length is of a happy medium—neither too short nor too long, and shows one of the best sections of Hancock county. It might be well to remember, your next drive with friends, to take them out to the Riverside Tea Room at Fenton. You will get value plus service and the most genial and courteous attention.

GIRLS' ANNUAL 4-H SHORT COURSE.

Will Take Place in This City June 23, 24, 25—Premises of St. Joseph Academy To Be Used—Course Is Popular and Will Attract.

All club girls are urged to avail themselves of this wonderful opportunity, the Hancock County Girls' 4-H Club Short Course Study, three days' instruction under specialists from A. M. College, M. S. C. W., Columbia, Miss., and Southern Newcomb College, at New Orleans, and local artists.

The program, which is full and well arranged, will appear in a later issue of The Echo. There will be a class in millinery for women each afternoon. This class will be instructed by the millinery instructors from M. S. C. W.

Also a class in flower making under the very efficient instructor, Miss Vicky Gex. St. Joseph Academy donates the use of its premises and use of class rooms, dormitories, etc., free of any charge.

Ivy Broussard, H. M. Terrebonne and Gerard Armstrong were among the guests in Bay St. Louis recently at the Public Service Company's outing. Gerard Armstrong, former resident of Bay St. Louis, was awarded the silver loving cup for measuring up physically to the perfect form, in which there were almost any number of contestants. He met every requirement and measurement exacted. Messrs. Broussard and Terrebonne were his guests for the day at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Armstrong, in Union street.

POINTED PINE PARAGRAPHS

O. H. L. Wernicke President Pine Institute of America, Inc.

When a merchant sees the pillar of smoke from a forest fire in his country, he should say, "There goes some of my trade into the clouds. It means losing business now, and for fifteen years to come, that I might have had. The man who set that fire will have poorer grass for his live-stock, hence poorer stock, and therefore less money to buy with. The owner of that land will have fewer trees and slower-growing trees, and therefore less money to buy with. Yes, there goes some of my trade."

ROTARY CLUB HOLDS LODGE OF SORROW.

Regular Meeting Wednesday Night Served As Occasion to Pay Tribute to Memory of President E. J. Leonard and Mayor R. W. Webb.

Tribute in beautiful thought and glowing language was paid Wednesday night on the occasion of the regular Wednesday meeting night of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club. First, the memory of the late President Ernest J. Leonard, second, to the memory of the late Mayor R. W. Webb, one of the originators and local organizers of the club. There were two vacant chairs at the luncheon table, each draped with the cloth of sorrow.

Eulogies were delivered to the memory of President Leonard by Rev. Father Gmelch, Jos. O. Mauffray, John Osoinach, Leo W. Seal, Carl Marshall, George R. Rea, Emile J. Gex, Dr. C. M. Shipp and Chas. G. Moreau.

There was also paid to the memory of the late Mayor Webb, the father of the Bay St. Louis Rotary Club, and the father of many of the improvements, chiefly the Bay St. Louis sea wall, the first to be built on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. Eulogies were delivered by those who knew him best and owing to the press of time the number of speakers had to be limited, among whom were Carl Marshall, Leo W. Seal, C. G. Moreau.

The respective virtues of these late Rotarians and civic leaders were extolled by the different speakers for a period of about two hours, after which the meeting adjourned, and every member in a body visited the home of the deceased president, where they in silent thought paid tribute as a body and their individual respects.

During the session of the Rotary Club's committee, the committee appointed by the chair to draw up suitable resolutions to the memory of the late president, Clem Weston, chairman, John Osoinach, Leo W. Seal, Dr. C. M. Shipp, R. N. Blaize.

POINTED PINE PARAGRAPHS

O. H. L. Wernicke President Pine Institute of America, Inc.

I know that in raising pine trees I am helping my neighbor who is raising other crops. I know that I am increasing the prosperity of my community. I know I am insuring better lives for my children and my children's children. These things appeal to me as worth doing.

The joke of it is that at the same time I can safely and surely make as much or more money with pine trees as my neighbor who prefers to raise other crops.

CHIMES CLOCK FOR LOCAL BANK.

Merchants Bank and Trust Company Closes Contract for Public Clock for Building—Chimes Will Sound Every Quarter Hour.

The Merchants Bank and Trust Company of this city has contracted for a large time clock to adorn its building. The clock will have four dials and the material will be of art glass and copper and will be entirely under electric control by a master clock in the bank's lobby.

The Merchants Bank and Trust Company believes in giving the public every convenience and protection possible. Recently a new vault with the Mosler Don steel door, weighing 22,000 pounds, was installed. The installation of this clock will complete their program of improvements and betterments.

Realizing the public welcomes dependable clocks, the directors of the Merchants Bank and Trust Company have thought it wise to establish one of these beautiful clocks, giving the time clearly both day and night, which will be particularly useful in a city like Bay St. Louis. This clock will chime every fifteen minutes, the music of the tubular chimes will be pleasing to all who hear it. It will be possible to hear the chimes under favorable conditions two miles away. This will give to Bay St. Louis a very metropolitan air, to say nothing of the usefulness and desirability of such a clock as proposed. It will have four dials, and will hang from the corner of the building, at the second story, over the main entrance.

JAHNCKE SERVICE TO VISIT BAY CITY.

Tomorrow, Sunday, will be the occasion of the annual outing of the service department of the Jahncke Company, at New Orleans. It is expected there will be several hundred visitors who enjoy our gulf breezes and salt water bathing, who will visit our beautiful city and spend the day with our people.

There will be several hundred visitors, and the premises of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club will be turned over gratis, plus every hospitality possible. Commodore E. J. Lacoste and Secretary E. J. Dubuc last night announced to The Echo everything was in readiness for the guests. Private automobile owners are requested to take the guests out and over our city and suburbs during the day. It will be appreciated and a great advertisement for the city.

As You Sow

DO YOU sow your money to the four winds, carelessly with a prodigal hand?

SQUANDER it carelessly or as carelessly throw it into unsound and uninvestigated speculative schemes and your money can never be recalled to your service.

DO YOU tuck it away out of circulation or plant it in unproductive places?

HOARD it away in a strong box or an old sock, and your money is reasonably safe, but you deny it the opportunity of working and earning for you.

DO YOU take the time and trouble to invest it wisely, in safe, properly investigated investments?

INVEST it in reliable securities and your money is not only safe but it will bring you a harvest of dividends for which you do not have to work.
